EASTERN ATTICA – Tuesday, November 5th

MARATHON

Marathon combines a picturesque and fertile landscape with a heavy historical and cultural past. Its fertile plain, the unique pine forest of Schinias, the rare ancient finds, its welcoming beaches certainly satisfy even the most demanding visitors who come from all parts of the world to worship the place of the glorious Victory of the Athenians in 490 BC, the place that gave birth to the Marathon run.

WINE MUSEUM COSTA LAZARIDI

Located in North Attica, which is half an hour from the centre of Athens, this museum honours the vine and all its deriving products. The Costa Lazaridi's Oenotria Land Wine Museum collection in Kapandriti, Attica, might well be the most comprehensive and rigorous attempt to capture and present the rich history of wine.

LACONIA – Wednesday, November 6th

The prefecture of Laconia is the southernmost prefecture of Peloponnese and mainland Greece. It is washed by the Aegean Sea, the Messinian Gulf and the Laconian Gulf. It has two main mountain ranges, Taygetos which is also the highest peak of the Peloponnese and Parnon. Between them is the valley of the river Evrotas and Sparta.

MISTRAS: Mystras was a Byzantine state in the Peloponnese, very close to Sparta. The castle-state of Mystras is a valuable source for knowledge of history, art and culture. Today, Mystras is by far the most important Byzantine monument in Greece and impresses the visitors from the very first minute of their visit.

SPARTA

Sparta, the legendary city! Unique natural beauty, in a charming landscape, ideal for touring and searching, Sparta, next to the river Evrotas, is a modern urban center, with wide and tree-lined streets, large squares and neoclassical buildings, which will offer you an unforgettable stay.

The plain that stretches around it is green with olives, oranges, lemons, mulberries and other trees. To the southwest, Taygetos rises with its towering peaks and its wild beauty, while to the east of the city is the Parnon mountain range, overgrown with firs and other trees.

ARGOLIS – Thursday, November 7th

Argolis (or Argolis) is a regional unit, a former prefecture of Greece and a geographical area that belongs administratively to the Region of Peloponnese. It is located in the Eastern Peloponnese and borders to the north with Corinthia, to the west and south with Arcadia and to the northeast with Attica (Troizinia). It is bordered to the south by the Argolic Gulf and to the east by the Saronic Gulf. It is mainly a semi-mountainous prefecture with a long coastline, however it includes the very productive and densely populated lowland area of the Argolic plain.

EPIDAUROS

The ancient theater of Epidaurus is located at the southeast end of the sanctuary that was dedicated to the healing god of antiquity, Asclepius, in the Asklepiion of Epidaurus. With a maximum capacity of 13,000 - 14,000 spectators, the theater hosted the musical, odic and dramatic contests included in the cult of Asclepius. It was also used as a means of treating patients, as there was a belief that watching dramatic performances had beneficial effects on the mental and physical health of patients. The monument attracts a large number of Greek and foreign visitors and is used for the presentation of ancient drama performances. The first performance in the theater of Epidaurus was the tragedy Electra by Sophocles, staged in 1938.

SEMELI ESTATE

Founded in 1979, Semeli is a leading Greek winery and one of the country's most significant wine-related developments. With deep roots in time-honored traditions and the eyes on the future, Semeli produces wines of exceptional quality offering consumers best value for money. The sunny Mediterranean climate and the extraordinary terroir, combined with the expert craftsmanship of their winemakers and the successful blending of indigenous and international varieties, result in wines of distinct character that have earned the respect of experts and captured the hearts of wine lovers worldwide.

CITY OF PIRAEUS – Friday, November 8th

Piraeus extends from the bay of Elefsina to the bay of Falirós, opposite the island of Salamina. Its central geographical element is the Piraeus Peninsula, where Pasalimani or port of Zea, Mikrolimano and the hill of Kastella (or Prophet Ilias hill) are located. It is located 12 kilometers southwest of the center of Athens, and towards the sea ends at the northeastern shores of the Saronic Gulf.

The main port is between the Piraeus peninsula and Drapetsona. Due to its size, its location and the age-old relationship of the Greeks with the sea, Piraeus developed into a major international shipping and shipbuilding center.

In Piraeus there are great monuments, such as parts of the walls of the 5th century BC, remains of ancient temples and buildings. There are also the neoclassical Municipal Theatre, industrial buildings of the early 20th century, preserved neoclassical buildings and impressive modern buildings, such as the Peace and Friendship Stadium and the G. Karaiskakis stadium, home of Olympiakos, the "Legend of Greece". Several museums operate, the most important being the Archaeological Museum and the Naval Museum of Greece. There are many means of transport, such as buses, trolleys, the Suburban Railway, the railway network, and the Athens Metro.
